Handmade wedding rings from our workshop

Unique, personal and made with great attention to detail: these special wedding rings are handmade in our own workshop. Made from fine red gold 750, they impress with their characterful wave texture, which harmoniously joins matt and polished surfaces.

The lively texture gives the rings a modern, organic presence. Thanks to the hand craftsmanship, each pair becomes an individual unique piece, made for a very special shared path.

With their striking width and the high-quality red gold, the rings look expressive and timeless at the same time. The combination of matt and glossy areas shows off the warm glow of the gold especially well.
